for modern building, interior and garden

The builder magazine focuses on everything related to housing acquisition, especially in the context of modern technologies and current trends. It introduces interesting projects and procedures in all areas related to contemporary lifestyle and living comfort, in accordance with years of proven knowledge and traditions. In clearly defined sections, it offers an overview of successful projects, materials used in all internal and external building structures of residential buildings, garden architecture and landscaping, conducts a survey of the current situation in the field of construction and interior design of apartments, houses and their outbuildings. It also monitors future prospects in connection with environmental aspects and sustainability, developments in the field of smart home management. It also presents options for financing, ensuring security and adequate privacy through the latest tools and systems.

The builder magazine also reflects important, thematically relevant exhibitions and fairs, held within our republic and throughout Europe, the content of which is intentionally followed up. It also shows the current development of this segment in the form of a presentation of competitions not only for renowned and young architects, but also for students of relevant fields. In the thematic section, it deals with news, innovations and interesting facts of this segment.

The builder magazine is intended for everyone who is interested in quality, new or reconstructed residential buildings, whether from the point of view of current or future investors, property owners and builders. It also does not forget those who like to take part in improving their household with their own hands. It brings general information about the unlimited possibilities of architecture and construction activities. It aims to be a broad platform for meeting professionals in a range of related professions in this branch, a point of contact for architects, construction companies and manufacturers of materials with potential customers, an inspiration to raise the standard of lifestyle associated with housing.
